

Bedfordshire Centenary Launch Party Sunday 6th September 2009

Launch Party News Update

The first thing to tell you is that we have a new venue for our Launch Party.

The new venue is Cardinal Newman School in Luton.

Following discussions with Amptill Town and Park Councils and the Greensands Trust Debbie Docherty and I have decided that due to the mounting list of logistical problems, the rising cost implications and the safety of all our members a change of venue was called for.

We are however even more excited as the new venue opens up more opportunities for us to have a fantastic Launch Party.

I wanted to let you know that County will be providing individual invitations to all Girlguiding Bedfordshire members and helpers hopefully the invitations will be kept as a Centenary memento. It would be a great start for a Centenary scrap book or album. The invitation will only give the basic details all the final details and health forms will be sent via the Unit at a later date. There will be a reply slip for parents/guardians to sign and return with the £5.00 cost for the day.

We will get the invitations to Units as soon as possible based on the census figures just in. Please can I urge you to give the invitation out to everyone in your Unit even if you are holding your own Centenary Launch Party?

There will be goodie bags and badges for the girls and adults attending.

Centenary Champion Team are working very hard on your behalf to make Bedfordshire's Launch Party the BIGGEST, BRIGHTEST, BOLDEST, MOST COLOURFULL, FUN DAY the County has ever seen!!!!!!!

If you are holding your own Launch Party have you registered your event on the CHQ website and have you told me about it?

Kind Regards
